

Discover the joys of cooking with Applegarth Cookery School.

We offer a diverse range of practical and inspiring cookery classes, suitable for complete beginners through to advanced cooks.

The school is run by top chef Kate Hughes, who taught at Leiths School of Food and Wine in London, and our highly talented and experienced cookery teacher Stephanie Benson. Together they provide a broad choice of courses to suit all ages and abilities, in the relaxed and welcoming surrounds of our on-site cookery cabin at Applegarth Farm.

Applegarth Farm has been growing, selling and producing fresh and wholesome food for over 40 years, and our cookery school is the perfect place to share our knowledge and passion for food. The school is all about having fun and learning new skills, whether you want to enjoy a day out cooking with friends and family, or to learn specialist skills with a structured course; we have something for everyone.

What's on at Applegarth Cookery School?

We deliver an exciting variety of classes and events, ranging from patisserie and bread making skills, through to knife skills, dinner party ideas, specialist regional cuisines and children's cookery. We also provide a truly unique space for children's parties, private tuition and corporate events.

Daytime, evening and weekend class times are available, from summer holiday times for children and teens, to classes during schools hours to suit busy parents!

Our schedule is continually evolving and we always welcome any ideas for new classes.
